

Four Corners is used with selected response questions to identify groups of students with similar responses to the question asked. Students move to a corner of the room designated to match their response or similar way of thinking. (Find the correct example)

Four Corners

This corner is an example of _____ because

A non-example would be

Four Corners

This corner is an example of _____ because

A non-example would be

Four Corners

This corner is an example of _____ because

A non-example would be

Four Corners

This corner is an example of _____ because

A non-example would be